"A program to help refugees adapt to a new homeland and become self-sufficient."
For American Employers and Refugees

Here's what the Refugee Assistance Program can do for refugees and for *English speaking residents...

JOB DEVELOPMENT

Employment means hope for the refugees. Forced from their homeland by war and famine, refugees come to the United States. They are eager for a chance to prove themselves. Hard-working and reliable, refugees make ideal employees.

Refugee Assistance Program provides clients with on-the-job training and follow-up to make sure that the refugees fully understand and accomplish their job duties.

ENGLISH CLASSES

Refugee Assistance Program teaches survival and job-related English. To understand and to be understood in English is a pre-requisite for successful employment.

TRANSLATION/ INTERPRETATION FOR *ENGLISH SPEAKING RESIDENTS

The Refugee Assistance Program staff of bilingual translators are for local hospitals, schools or businesses. Refugee Assistance Program translators can help interpret with non-English speaking refugees. Translators work by phone or in person to help you communicate with a refugee.

SOCIAL SERVICES

The Refugee Assistance Program staff of bilingual outreach workers is available to assist in:

- ★ orientation to life in the United States;
- ★ immigration and naturalization requirements;
- ★ family counseling;
- ★ insurance and accident claims;
- ★ hospital and school related problems;
- ★ banking and loans;
- ★ police courts and legal problems;
- ★ driver's license tests;
